

THE PERSEVERING PENGUIN

Piper was a penguin who lived near the icy ocean.

Every day, Piper practiced sliding on the ice with the other penguins.

One day, Piper tried to slide down a big icy hill.

He slipped and fell again and again.

Piper felt frustrated, but he did not quit.

Piper took a deep breath and tried one more time. This time, he slid all the way down the hill. Piper smiled and flapped his wings because he kept trying.

1 What was Piper trying to do in the story?

2 What is the story mostly about?

3 How do you know Piper is persevering?

4 Where did Piper live?

5 What is something you had to practice to get better at?
