

THE PROUD FLAMINGO

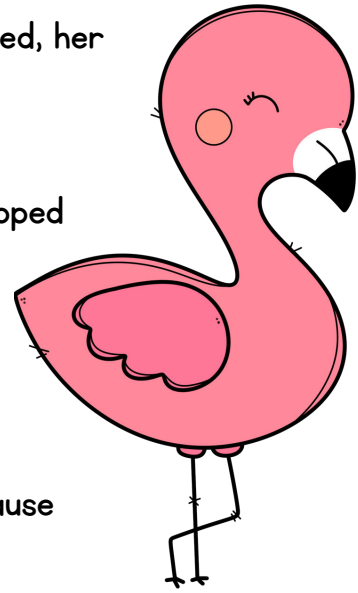

Fiona was a flamingo with bright pink feathers. She lived by a quiet lake and loved to dance on one leg. When she danced, her feathers shone in the sunlight.

One day, the other birds watched Fiona dance. They clapped their wings and said, "You are a great dancer!"

Fiona smiled and felt proud of her hard work.

Fiona said, "Thank you. I practiced a lot."

She invited the other birds to dance with her. Soon, everyone was dancing by the lake. Fiona felt happy because she was proud of herself and kind to others.

1 What did Fiona like to do?

2 What is the story mostly about?

3 How do you know Fiona is proud but also humble?

4 Where did Fiona live?

5 What is something you are proud of? How can you stay humble about it?
