

Preposition Hunt

Prepositions show relationships in a sentence, like location or direction. Read the text below about physical activities with friends. Whenever you come across a preposition, highlight or underline it. Enjoy finding the prepositions!

Participating in physical activities and sports is so important for a healthy lifestyle. Whether you're inside or outside, there are many choices available. You can join fitness and dance classes at a local gym, where you move with other people. You can also enjoy outdoor activities such as running around a track, or cycling and hiking up elevated places for an added challenge! Playing team sports like tennis or basketball among friends is great for teamwork. If you're looking for excitement, try extreme sports like rock climbing or surfing on weekends. When you take part in activities, like yoga and Pilates, you're able to relax and stay flexible. On the days when you do work out, remember to warm up, wear proper gear, and stay hydrated. By doing these activities, you can improve your physical and mental well-being while having fun!
